

Director Transplant and Advanced Organ Therapies

This is a wonderful opportunity to work in San Francisco with a world-renowned transplant team in a brand new, state of the art hospital. Under the broad supervision of Vice President, Specialty Services, the Director is fully responsible for the day-to-day operational management of The Barry S. Levin, MD, Department of Transplantation and Advanced Organ Therapies programs. The service line is comprised of multiple programs including kidney, pancreas, liver and heart transplant; VAD and advanced heart failure; hepatology, GI oncology and abdominal surgery and GI motility. Successful execution of this position will result in the delivery of the highest quality, cost-effective, patient centered care available for transplant and organ therapies patients that meets or exceeds the expectations of patients, physicians and staff.

Education:

- Bachelor's degree is required, or, equivalent education/experience
- Master's degree in Business Administration, Healthcare Administration, Nursing is preferred
- RN with CA license is preferred

Experience:

- Ten years' experience in healthcare management working closely with physicians and clinical staff strongly preferred
- Transplant background strongly preferred

Skills and Knowledge:

- Incumbent will have a demonstrated and strong background in healthcare delivery which ideally would include specific knowledge regarding the healthcare environment at both a local and State level.
- Demonstrated ability to manage a large, diverse team of clinical and non-clinical staff with a focus on employee engagement
- Results oriented focus and ability to manage and measure complex, multi-faceted programs to achieve high quality outcomes in an operationally efficient manner
- Demonstrated understanding of healthcare finance, delivery of care, and systems and the ability to understand, interpret and produce financial plans and reports is required.
- The ability to efficiently organize the diverse needs of all areas of responsibility while maintaining timely and accurate records.
- Exceptionally strong ability to effectively communicate with a diverse group of people is required.
- Incumbent will demonstrate the attributes of a compassionate individual able to deal with multiple demands in a calm, wise and results-oriented manner.

To apply send CV to hawkina@sutterhealth.org