Acute Care NP - Thoracic Transplant

University of Virginia Medical Center

The APN1-NP role with the Lung Transplant program provides comprehensive clinical care to patients with end stage lung disease in all phases of inpatient and outpatient transplant care to include management of referral, evaluation, and waitlist phases of care along with the coordination of clinical management of post-transplant patients. The NP coordinator is a critical member of the transplant patient’s multidisciplinary team of providers who work collaboratively to ensure excellent clinical outcomes and patient and family experiences in all transplant settings.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Relationship Based Care reflects the influence of the nurse’s relationship with self, colleagues, patient and family.
2. Expert Caring encompasses clinical assessment, planning, prioritizing, coordinating and implementing care.
3. Empowered Leader demonstrates knowledge of and participate in shared governance.
4. Lifelong Learner encompasses professional development. (formal education, certification, learning opportunities, professional organizations) Supports new team member onboarding.
5. Quality Achievement includes adherence to clinical documentation guidelines, comprehension of outcomes data, engagement in performance improvement and commitment to standard work.
6. Innovation is demonstrated by with technologies that support patient care, seeking to implement evidence based practice and new nursing research knowledge.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Education: Master's Degree in Nursing from an accredited School of Nursing.
- License/Certification: Licensed to practice as an RN in Virginia required. Licensed to practice as a Nurse Practitioner in Virginia required. Licensed to prescribe medication in Virginia required. AHA Health Care Provider BLS certification required.

To Apply:
https://uvahealth.taleo.net/careersection/1/jobdetail.ftl?job=36917&tz=GMT-04%3A00

Pay Range: $89,523.20 – $143,228.80
Primary Location: United States of America

Job: Registered Nurse

Schedule: Full-time/Day

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.